The consensus in the recently concluded two-day Dialogue on Ethics of Artificial Intelligence (AI) was that plural philosophical perspectives and a global and inclusive regulatory framework are needed. It involves different perspectives, interests and worldviews. Organizations will also need to redesign their governance mechanisms to be ethical by design (e.g. adopting anticipatory and ethical decisions in a wicked world: the role of technologists, entrepreneurs, and organizations). The consensus in the recently concluded two-day Dialogue on Ethics of Artificial Intelligence (AI) was that plural ethical perspectives originating from different philosophies must help in shaping a global and inclusive regulatory framework.
